reason that it has a more inti mate association with the family than a magazine or a daily newspaper.

No local merchant can afford not to advertise in weekly newspapers of the better class. It is a sad commentary upon mad town business m n that they don't see the advantage o them of carrying an adver tisement in the small town paper every single week. Such an advertisement is the cheap est salesman that a merchant advertising in the better class of weekly newspapers is an investment and not an ex pense; and it is the best paying investment that the merchant can make; but not one in thousand publishers of the weekly papers is compensated anywhere near what he is worth to the merchants and to the community in which he lives and to whose interests he dedicates his life. Every editor of a weekly newspaper is con stantly working in behalf of munity, whether that merchant patronizes the local paper or not; but every merchant of form an association as success McAdoo, Former Secretary of every community, unfortunately, does not have the business foresight to see that it is to his own pers nal advantage to e has, how it can be used and what it costs.
